MICHELE TAYLOR

The hardest working Foetus in show business, Jim Thirlwell has a deluge of projects coming out. Atavistic will be releasing Male, a video of the last Foetus Inc. American tour with a stylish holographic cover. The NYC-based indie label PCP will be releasing a picture-disc split single of Foetus and Chrome Cranks entitled "Vice Squad Dick" which features the Cranks covering Television's "Little Johnny Jewel" while Foetus takes on Von Lmo's "Outside of Time." Thirlwell, who has recently completed remix duties for artists as disparate as dancehall reggae singer Carla Marshall, Ethyl Meatplow, Megadeth and ex-Judas Priest singer Rob Halford's band Fight, is currently working on the much anticipated collaboration with guitarist Caspar Brötzmann. And on top of all that, Foetus has signed with Columbia's Chaos label, which will release his new album Gash in the new year. When asked how it felt to be on the same label as Mariah Carey, Thirlwell replied dryly, "I'm on the same label as Bob Dylan and Mercury Rev."
