Fetal Position

Lord knows we love us some Karen O. So when the new Foetus video SHE DIRECTED came through - from Foetus's forthcoming LOVE record on Birdman - suffice it to say we were on cloud of joy time.

The floating disembodied head of Jim Thirwell is equal parts Kevin McDonald's relaxation tape skit and Conan's In The Year 2000, and the VHS editing steelo is more than kitschy enough - but then those gory, pus-covered zombie legs crawl out of the ground and it becomes something else entirely, a completely tweaked and amazing harpsichord freak-out.

And Spike was the cameraman!
